

In so many ways this Treaty will help the peoples of the free world work together to defeat terrorism. While it may have gone unnoticed, this new Treaty adds to the shared mission of the peoples of the Republic of Cyprus and the United States. It also builds on efforts with which I have been involved. Our Judiciary Committee considered and promoted the PATRIOT Act.

We must mention also the cooperation of the Cypriots' ally, Greece. Greece has put the very dangerous November 17th organization out of commission. Together Greece and Cyprus are working to crack down on terrorist groups.

Mr. Speaker, today I want to commend the U.S. and Cyprus for reaching a new era in diplomatic relations and international cooperation. Together, I am confident we can more effectively put a stop to the villainous acts of criminals and terrorists around the world.

PERSONAL EXPLANATION

HON. ALCEE L. HASTINGS

OF FLORIDA

IN THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES

Wednesday, October 9, 2002

Mr. HASTINGS of Florida. Mr. Speaker, from September 20, 2002 through October 8, 2002, I was absent from the House of Representatives proceedings because I was fulfilling my duties as a member of Helsinki Commission and Vice President of the Parliamentary Assembly of the Organization for Security and Cooperation in Europe.

While serving in this capacity, I missed roll-call vote Nos. 424 through 447. Had I been present for these votes, I would have voted the following way: No. 424, "yes"; No. 425, "yes"; No. 426, "yes"; No. 427, "no"; No. 428, "yes"; No. 429, "no"; No. 430, "no"; No. 431, "yes"; No. 432, "yes"; No. 433, "no"; No. 434, "no"; No. 435, "no"; No. 436, "no"; No. 437, "no"; No. 438, "no"; No. 439, "yes"; No. 440, "no"; No. 441, "no"; No. 442, "yes"; No. 443, "yes"; No. 444, "yes"; No. 445, "yes"; No. 446, "no"; No. 447, "yes".

TRIBUTE TO ADULT DAY CARE

HON. BOB RILEY

OF ALABAMA

IN THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES

Wednesday, October 9, 2002

Mr. RILEY. Mr. Speaker, I rise today to pay tribute to Adult Day Care on the occasion of the Annual Conference of the Alabama Adult Day Care Association in Auburn, Alabama, on October 11, 2002.

Adult day care programs provide health and social services in a group setting on a part-time basis to frail older persons and other persons with physical, emotional, or mental impairments. Adult day care in the United States was inspired by the European psychiatric day hospitals in the 1940's and was influenced by the British geriatric day hospital model in the 1950's. Adult day care began in psychiatric day hospital in the United States in the late 1940's, mainly assisting patients who were released from mental institutions. The concept of day care was expanded to include supportive health and social services for impaired persons residing in the community in the 1960's. These programs have grown rapidly over the last 3 decades, from a handful in the late 1960's to an estimated 4,000 today.

Obviously, this growth reflects a need. With the decline in our family structure, we do not see as many large families in which there is always someone available to take care of an older family member. Families are often separated by great distances because of work. Even if grown children live near their parents, the husband and wife frequently have to work to support the family. This leaves no one available to help with an elderly parent. In these instances, adult day care is every bit as important to the family as child care. Knowing that someone is there to perhaps transport the parent to day care, make sure that the parent takes his or her medicine and generally supervise and engage the interest of the elderly parent means a great deal.

Adult day care has taken on increased significance as a means of taking care of elderly individuals who have physical or mental limitations. These people are not candidates for skilled nursing home care, but they require care from a compassionate and knowledgeable individual. Quite often their families cannot provide this care on a continuous basis, but with the help of day care, both the parent and the family caregiver benefit.

I am particularly impressed with the idea of adult day care in the plan of care for elderly citizens with Alzheimer's disease. These elderly patients often receive the very worst of care in nursing homes if they are accepted, and they present one of the most difficult challenges for family members who are not trained to work with the elderly. Studies have shown that patients suffering from Alzheimer's disease seem to be best handled in a small group setting under the care of those with both medical and psychiatric training. With the elderly person in this setting, the whole family can receive some relief and be better able to continue to properly care for their relative.

Mr. Speaker, I want to take this opportunity to salute those who tirelessly provide Adult Day Care to our elderly citizens.

MISCELLANEOUS TRADE AND TECHNICAL CORRECTIONS ACT OF 2002

SPEECH OF

HON. ADAM B. SCHIFF

OF CALIFORNIA

IN THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES

Monday, October 7, 2002

Mr. SCHIFF. Mr. Speaker, on October 7, 2002, the U.S. House of Representatives passed by a voice vote H.R. 5385, The Miscellaneous Trade and Technical Corrections Act. H.R. 5385 included provisions of H.R. 5002, which amends the United States-Israeli Free Trade Area Implementation Act of 1985 to allow for the designation of Israeli-Turkish qualifying industrial zones.

Designation of Turkish qualifying industrial zones will dramatically expand Turkish access to U.S. markets through duty-free exports to the United States.

As someone who believes that free and fair trade provides great opportunities and benefits to the American people, I have supported a number of free trade agreements during the past two years. We live in an increasingly global economy and our future progress depends on our ability to take advantage of that fact. However, we must also make sure our trading partners adhere to the rules of fair play.

Unfortunately, this legislation would reward Turkey, despite its nine-year illegal blockade of Armenia, which, according to World Bank estimates, has cost Armenia between $500 and $720 million annually. These figures, which represent one quarter to one third of Armenia's entire economic output, are staggering.

Turkey's blockade has also taken a human toll on Armenia's three million population. As a result of the blockade, hundreds of thousands of Armenians have been forced to leave their country and many of those that have remained have been forced into poverty.

Instead of rewarding one ally to the detriment of another, we should continue to press Turkey to end its blockade and establish formal diplomatic and trade relations with its neighbor to the east. We should also seriously consider a meaningful bilateral trade agreement with Armenia. Such a mutually-beneficial trade agreement would not only help strengthen Armenia's economy, but will increase the demand for American products. U.S. companies and joint ventures working in Armenia are primary sources of demand for U.S. goods and services in Armenia.

In order to make sure that free trade is also fair trade, one trading partner should not be allowed to impede the economic well being of another trading partner. We cannot and should not adopt a trade policy that simply undermines our commitment to an ally, such as Armenia, which during the past decade has adopted a free market economy and has implemented critical reforms in trade and monetary policy, banking and property rights.

We can take full advantage of trade opportunities without placing our nation and others in a race towards the lowest common denominators. H.R. 5385 falls far short of our resolve to help allies such as Armenia and the other former Soviet republics become full partners in the global economy.
